Following the lead of Providence, R. I., which established the first open-air school in America in 1908, twenty-three American cities are now supporting such schools.--Crossley Hall, one of the dormitories of the Mt. Hermon school at East Northfield was totally destroyed by fire January 5. The loss is estimated about $100,000, with an insurance of $75,000.--There was consumed in the United States during the calendar year 1909 in the industry of wood distillation, 1,265,000 cords of wood, as against 978,000 cords in 1908 and 1,282,000 cords in 1907. The three leading products obtained from the hard woods are charcoal, wood-alcohol and gray acetate, and the leading product in point of value in soft wood distillation is turpentine.--The Federation of Civic Societies of Milwaukee has recently published a list of prominent speakers whose service may be secured by the various civic clubs of that city. This list includes the names of some eighty speakers and the topics upon which they are prepared to make addresses. Milwaukee is certainly not behind other cities in her number of speech-makers or rather in the number of those who are willing to edify others with their oratory.--A call for the first Wisconsin Country Life Conference to be held at Madison under the auspices of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin, February 14-15, has been issued by Dean H. L. Russell. The purpose of this conference is to bring together those who are interested...
