There are times when a consignment is sent forward and terms are F. O. B. Line of Road. In any such instance the freight bill should be marked accordingly and the place given as the same from which the shipment originated, in order that the comptrollers office may know just how to handle the freight bill. In order that the local stores keepers report of freight bills charged to General Stores account during a certain month may correspond with the records in the comptrollers office, the comptroller should arrange to send him a list on the first day of each month, showing the numbers on freight bills charged to General Stores account during the previous month. The stores keeper should keep a record of all freight bills passed, and thus it will not be difficult for him to ascertain the total...
