Createspace, United States, 2013. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.My oldest daughter is now twenty-four years old, with a child of her own, and she is currently living in Korea with her husband and her son. As I write this, it has been slightly more than six months since they left, and it will be at least another eighteen months before I see them again. Sure, we have Skype to help us keep in touch, but that just isn't quite the same. One morning I woke up and found that my daughter had posted a message on Facebook that said she was homesick and bored. The next day she posted an emoticon that showed a frown with a single tear. I sent her a quick response: Big Hug. When she was a little girl, I used to take her in my arms anytime something was wrong, and I would always say Big Hug as I squeezed her tight. It wasn't long before she posted a reply: Thank u daddy. Only wish it was a real hug. Miss u bunches. I smiled as I read that, and then I sent her another message. It's as real as you need it to be, just like changing the traffic lights and the magic doors, as long as you believe, it's real! I love you, honey bear, and I'm always as close as your favorite memory! Okay, so some of that may not make any sense to outsiders who are reading this, but there will be more information later about changing the traffic lights and the magic doors. As for honey bear, that was a nickname I gave her when she was a toddler, and it...
